

Redburn hires senior Consumer Specialist

London, 7th April 2020 – Redburn (Europe) Ltd, the independent equity research and execution firm, has today announced it has appointed Mark Wallis as Specialist Salesman for the Consumer sectors.

With a primary focus on staples, retail and luxury, Mark, who is a CFA Charterholder, will help Redburn leverage its independent research to global clients.

Mark joins Redburn with 20 years of experience, most recently at Royal Bank of Canada (RBC) where he was Director of Consumer Specialist Sales. Prior to this, he spent seven years in a similar role at Bank of America Merrill Lynch, in both its New York and London offices.

Robert Miller, Head of Research Services at Redburn, commented: “Mark’s professional background at HSBC, BAML and RBC speaks for itself, and we are delighted to bring in someone with his experience at such a pivotal time for the global consumer economy.

“His expertise, as both a European and Global Consumer specialist, will help us to leverage the outstanding product we have in the Consumer sectors.

“The whole research team is looking forward to working closely with Mark both remotely and in-person when the Government’s restrictions begin to ease.”

Mark Wallis added: “The need for independent equity research has never been more critical and I am joining Redburn at a fascinating moment for both the Consumer sector and the equity research market. I look forward to helping to build on the firm’s outstanding reputation.”
